Response to Amendment

1. The examiner acknowledges the applicant's submission of Amendment for Application No. 09/866,981 dated on 31 August 2004. At this point, claims 3-9, 16, 18, 22-28, 35, and 37 have been cancelled; claims 1 and 20 have been amended. There are 20 claims pending in the application; there are 8 independent claims and 12 dependent claims, all of which are ready for reconsideration by the examiner.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-2, 10-15, 17, 19-21, 29-34, 36, and 38 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 1 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“snooping a system response to said first command at said processor, said snooping at system responses step being performed after said invalidating step; and wherein said processing step converts said second command to a third command in said transition cache if said system response to said first command is a retry, said third command requesting that said cache line be stored in main memory of said multi-processor system, and discards said second command without issuing a bus command if said system response to said first command indicates normal completion of said first command.”

Claim 10 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said generating step does not generate a retry snoop response when said determining step determines that data has not started to arrive at said transition cache in response to said non-exclusive command”

Claim 13 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said generating step generates a retry snoop response when said determining step determines that data has started to arrive at said transition cache in response to said non-exclusive command.”

Claim 14 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said processing step converts said response to said first command into a second command for writing said requested cache line in a main memory of said multi-processor system when said system response to said first command is a retry and said memory coherency image state for said requested cache line in said cache which transferred said requested cache line to said transition cache indicated modified data in said requested cache line prior to said updating step.”

Claim 20 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said transition cache converts said castback command to a second command if said system response to said first command is a retry, said second command requesting that said cache line be stored in a main memory of said multi-processor system, and wherein said transition cache discards said castback command without issuing a bus command if said system response to said first command indicates that said first command complete normally.”

Claim 29 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said transaction cache does not generate a retry snoop response when data has not started to arrive at said transition cache in response to said non-exclusive command.”

Claim 32 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said transition cache generates a retry snoop response when data has started to arrive at said transition cache in response to said non-exclusive command.”

Claim 33 is allowable for the combination including the limitation of:

“wherein said processing step converts said response to said first command into a second command for writing said requested cache line in a main memory of said multi-processor system when said system response to said first command is a retry and said memory coherency image state for said requested cache line in said cache which transferred said requested cache line to said transition cache indicated modified data in said requested cache line prior to said updating step.”

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
